(In the space provided below, please explain in detail the reasons for the delay in filing a proper reply.)

On August 20, 2004, Attorney of Record faxed an Issue Fee Transmittal to Mail Stop Issue Fee at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for payment of the issue fee. The fax number that was used was the central fax number (703) 872-9306. Attorney of Record was under the impression that everything that goes to the central number is matched with the file at the mail stops that are indicated on the correspondence.

On November 8, 2004, a Notice of Abandonment was mailed to the Attorney of Record for failure to pay the issue fee. On Friday, November 19, 2004, the Attorney of Record talked to the attorney on call at the Petitions Branch at the Patent Office. The attorney indicated that since the application is now abandoned that we need to mail a Petition to Revive and indicate that the Patent Office scanned in the issue fee transmittal but did not charge the deposit account.

On August 20, 2004, Attorney of Record faxed an Issue Fee Transmittal to Mail Stop Issue Fee at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for payment of the issue fee. The fax number that was used was the central fax number (703) 872-9306. Attorney of Record was under the impression that everything that goes to the central number is matched with the file at the mail stops that are indicated on the correspondence.

On November 8, 2004, a Notice of Abandonment was mailed to the Attorney of Record for failure to pay the issue fee. On Friday, November 19, 2004, the Attorney of Record talked to the attorney on call at the Petitions Branch at the Patent Office. The attorney indicated that since the application is now abandoned that we need to mail a Petition to Revive and indicate that the Patent Office scanned in the issue fee transmittal but did not charge the deposit account.
